Young Investigator Travel Awards
The Liver Week 2020
The 14th International Symposium on Alcoholic Liver and Pancreatic Diseases and Cirrhosis (ISALPD/C)
Seoul, South Korea May 28-30, 2020

https://www.theliverweek.org/new/program/glance.php

5 awards for young scientists in the U.S. with legal status for at least one year
- Supported by NIAAA R13 AA020691

Eligibility Criteria
- Must be early in their careers (≤7 years), such as PhD or MD students, postdocs, scientists, clinical fellows, or residents, junior faculty without funding
- Conducting basic or clinical research relevant to the symposium theme;
- Should be the first author on an abstract submitted to the Liver Week 2020
- Upon selection, should register for the symposium and present a poster and a short oral summary.
- Cannot be supported by other travel award mechanism.

Application
- Email CV and an abstract to: Felicia.Owusu@med.usc.edu
- Indicate on an abstract that it is for ISALPD/C travel award application.
  - Submit an abstract under “2020 ISALPDC (The 14th International Symposium on ALPD and Cirrhosis)” category per the Liver Week 2020 instructions:
    https://www.theliverweek.org/new/abstracts/submission.php
- Registration fee waived for ALL foreign participants and attendees

Selection will be made on a competitive basis and awardees will be notified by e-mail in March 2020. Awards (up to $2,500) are provided via reimbursement of travel expenses after submission of receipts following the symposium.

Deadline for Application: March 9th, 2020