In this presentation, Dr. Hu will discuss his views on the status of research on the environmental origins of cancer, including discussion of examples from his program of research and potential opportunities, broadly and at USC. He will also briefly discuss plans for the Department of Preventive Medicine.

Tuesday, October 20, 2020
12:00pm – 1:00pm

Please be sure to sign in to obtain CME credit

GLOBAL OBJECTIVE:

a. Apply new advances and emerging knowledge in clinical practice
b. Synthesize laboratory and basic science insight to clinical applicable therapeutic trials
c. Evaluate and compare practice strategies to improve delivery of quality cancer care

TARGET AUDIENCE: Activity content is oriented to address the educational needs of attending physicians/faculty, residents/fellows and other allied health care

EDUCATIONAL FORMAT: This activity will include didactic lectures with Q&A and be evaluated by each participant at the end of the fiscal year

DISCLOSURE: As an organization accredited by the ACCME The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California requires everyone who is in a position to control the content of an education activity to disclose prior to the activity all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest. All disclosed relevant financial relationships would have been resolved prior to the commencement of the activity.

DISCLOSURE: Dr. Hu has indicated that he has nothing to disclose

Course Director/CME Planners: The course director and CME planners have indicated they have nothing to disclose (No commercial support was provided)

Accreditation Statement: The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation: The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

https://usc.zoom.us/j/94763053534